IWR Annual Report (2011)

Status: Project Manager:

In Progress Kenneth Lichtman

Purpose: The purpose of this project is to prepare a written report on IWR activities for inclusion in the Annual Report of the Secretary of the Army on Civil Works Activities. This project communicates IWR's activities including the development of new planning techniques and methodologies, models, and other tools in the advancement of water resources planning and policy.

Objective: The project objective is the preparation of the IWR Annual report. The Annual Report serves to communicate the activities, projects, and accomplishments of the Institute to a wide audience including members of the Congress and the public.

Benefits: The preparation the Annual Report and articles which appear on the IWR website benefit individuals by informing them of the ongoing activities including the development of new planning techniques and methodologies, models, and other tools in the advancement of water resources planning and policy.

Progress: The IWR Annual Report (Chapter 43 of the Annual Report of the Secretary of the Army on Civil Works Activities for Fiscal Year 2010) has been completed at IWR and transmitted to the Headquarters of the USACE. Activities remaining included preparing the Annual Report for posting to the IWR website and preparing a shorter version of the Annual Report which highlights the major activities and accomplishments of the Institute in fiscal year 2010.
