

Collaboration & Public Participation Community of Practice

Sharing Successes...

The Collaboration and Public Participation CoP brings together Corps employees to share information and expertise across the organization to effectively collaborate, resolve conflicts, and communicate information related to missions. Members of the CoP work directly with partners and stakeholders to ensure that communities are active participants in Corps activities.

The CoP's goal is to improve collaboration competencies across Corps programs and assets throughout a region and the nation.

Consultation Services

Providing direct support...

CPCX staff and internal partners, supplemented by external collaboration experts, provide consultation services and direct support to districts, divisions, and HQ. This support augments local capacity and extends from short-term virtual advice and assistance to longer term on-site assistance in the areas of conflict diagnosis, public involvement process design, and facilitation and mediation.
