

TRIBAL EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AND FLOODPLAIN MANAGEMENT WORKSHOPS

Our goal was to share information with tribal communities on preventative measures which can increase safety and reduce likelihood of injury or property damage in flood prone areas.

The Sacramento District Flood Risk Management Program supported the Silver Jackets Tribal Emergency Management and Floodplain Management Workshop Series.

This workshop series provided California tribes with information on emergency management and floodplain management resources, tools, and funding programs that can enhance each tribe's flood preparedness goals.

Overall, the three Tribal Workshops reached 22 federally recognized tribes and two non-federally recognized tribes.

TRIBAL EM & FLOODPLAIN MANAGEMENT WORKSHOPS PROJECT PARTNERS

- USACE Sacramento District
- Central Valley Flood Protection Board
- Cal Office of Emergency Services
- CA Department of Water Resources
- Federal Emergency Management Agency
- Tule River Indian Tribe
- Bureau of Indian Affairs
- National Weather Service
- United States Geological Survey